Our Theory of Change – Thriving Communities

If we support the voluntary sector, donors and partners in Devon to identify and build upon their strengths to tackle issues together then communities will be more resilient and inclusive with increased capacity to thrive.

Whose data do we collect?

We hold data on those who have given financial or other support to Devon Community Foundation, those who might do, and those who apply to Devon Community Foundation for funding, whether that is grants, loans or social investment, whether on behalf of an organisation or personally.

How we obtain your data

The majority of the information we hold about you has been provided directly to us by you. In some cases we may collect data from someone else. Examples include where existing supporters feel you may be interested in supporting our work and suggest your name to us, or data collected via a service provider like BT Donate or Just Giving.

We also collect data from publicly available sources. Examples include information gathered from a news article or on-line media, including social media like LinkedIn or Twitter. We may also use publicly available directories and similar information such as Companies' House.
